

FOR FRIDAY ONLY

MEN'S $3.50 TROUSERS

Special at $1.65 a Pair

We say for Friday only because the number of pairs that we could coax the maker to let us have does not warrant our promising any for Saturday. They're such good Trousers for so little, that they'll go in a jiffy.

The fabrics are new wool mixtures in which brown predominates, with a sprinkling of gray, and just enough color-stripes to form a slight overplaid. Correctly cut, well built, and in regular and extra sizes.

FOR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Boys' Suits and Reefers—Extraordinary Values

These are the result of a hurried trip to one of the makers of our better sort of Boys' Clothes. The clothes he made for us to begin the season with were snapped up in almost no time—the styles and the making were so good, and the values so out of the ordinary. So it seemed wise to get some more of the same kind, if it were possible so late in the season. Luckily, we did get them—and at a decided saving over the former prices. These we offer for Friday and Saturday—both Suits and Reefers.

Boys' Snappy Doub'e-breasted Suits

At $2.45 Values $4.00

Fashioned of plain black thibet, and fancy chevrons in new and pretty patterns. Double-breasted coat with belt. Straight trousers. Sizes 7 to 16 years.

Boys' Two-pair-of-Trouser Suits

At $3.95 Values $5.00

Fashioned of fancy chevrons in very handsome patterns. Double-breasted coat, with belt. One pair of straight and one pair of knickerbocker trousers with each suit. A few among these come with one pair of trousers—in straight models of course. Sizes for boys of 7 to 16 years in both lots.

Boys' Very Handsome Reefers

At $3.45 Values $5.00

One style is fashioned of dark Oxford gray chevrol, lined with warm red flannel; double-breasted; finished with velvet collar, gilt buttons and two vents in back. Another is fashioned in a black-and-white diagonal stripe effect, finished with gun-metal buttons, velvet collar and two vents in back. Sizes 3 to 12 years.

FOR FRIDAY AND SATURDAY

Choice of Any of Our Boys' 25c Hose, 19c

Such well-known kinds as the "Gridiron" and the "Black Cat" are the makes you may choose from; so it is hardly necessary to talk about quality. They are in wide and narrow ribbed styles, and are built with the most strength where the most is needed.

Some Regular Values That Are Very Good, Indeed

BLOUSE WAISTS—new ones that you haven't seen before. Of madras and chambray, plain high brown, and fancy figures and stripes; with attached cuffs. 50c

BOYS' UNDERWEAR—in fleece-lined and jersey-ribbed styles. This quality and weight we regard as considerably better than usually sells for 25c

BOYS' NECKWEAR—of every sort that appeals to boys, including shapes that are exact reproductions of the kinds worn by men. Four-in-hand, Tecks, Windsor, Bat's-wings and beautiful Scotch clan plaids, at 25c
BOYS' PAJAMAS—especially those of striped comet flannel; fashioned in military style, generous in their proportions and unusually well made. 50c

A Friday Special—Seasonable Headwear for Children

At 15c Values 50c and 75c

A lot of uncommonly interesting odds and ends, comprising Wide-brim Hats and Tam-o-Shanters, exactly like those we are selling every day. If you look very carefully you may find a mark which has resulted from the handling they've undergone; but in no case is it more serious than would result from two or three times wearing. Styles suitable for children of 1 to 10 years.

FOR FRIDAY ONLY

Women's $3.00 to $4.00 Shoes at $1.65

New styles—not an old one among them; for this larger lot is made up of several smaller ones left from a similar number of this season's proved favorites. The incompleteness of the size-range of each style was their only fault; but grouped in one lot, every size may now be had between 3 and 5.

The leathers are black or tan vici kid; and box calf and patent coltskin; button or lace; kid or patent leather tips; medium and high Cuban, and French heels.

FOR FRIDAY ONLY.

Men's Black Derby Hats

At $1.65 Values $3.00 and $3.50

The exact count is thirty dozen, and of these fully one-third sell regularly at $3.50; the rest not a penny under $3.00.

They come to us with all the prestige that obtains with the product of a maker who is known the world over, and are in this season's most modish blocks. The shapes and proportions are so varied that any man may be becomingly hatted from them. Sizes 6 1/2 to 7 1/2.

WACHTER FOR MAYOR.

What He Would Do if He Were Elected.

Representative Frank Wachter of Maryland practically announced yesterday that he was a candidate for mayor of Baltimore. He gave an outline of what he would do if elected, but he said emphatically that he would not make his appointments on a non-partisan basis.

He was asked, "What would you do if you defeat Mr. Timanus in the primaries and are elected mayor? Would you make non-partisan appointments?"

"Not on your life," was the reply. "I would appoint republicans to every office, except where the charter required me to appoint democrats. But they would have to be first-class men and every man of them will have to toe the mark. If I'm elected mayor there won't be any loafers or grafters around me and there won't be any in the city hall. Everything is going to be run on strict business principles, and there won't be any squandering of the taxpayers' dollars on fool's schemes. Another thing, I'm no sportsman, and anybody who takes me for one will find himself very much deceived if I am ever mayor of Baltimore. I am just as clean in politics as Secretary Bonaparte or any other man."

"Just because I have never posed as a reformer does not mean that I am an advocate of the spoils system. No, sir, the day for that kind of business is long past. My belief is that the city should be run as a mayor of Baltimore I would stamp my heel on graft in whatever form I found it, no matter whom it affected. The salary of mayor would be every dollar that I would get out of the place, and his salary would have to suffice every man in the city administration.

"Moreover, with me as mayor, there would be a square deal for every citizen, rich and poor, democrat or republican. There would not be anybody with any more pull than anybody else, and every man, woman or child that came to me would get justice. I want to be mayor because of the honor of the position and because I believe that I can make as mayor a record and a reputation for myself that will be a comfort to me and a matter of pride to my family and friends. There is nothing else in the place for me. I don't want to be any political boss or leader.

"I don't intend to use the place for the purpose of playing politics, and there will be no politics in the administration of the city's business. The offices will be filled by republicans because I am a party man and because I believe in the republican party. But the democrats of this city know that they will get a square deal from me."

The Navy League is trying to find some plan for recruiting American sailors to the navy. A scheme has been suggested to give fishermen pay for part of the year, provided they report when wanted.

POLICE TO GUARD TILLMAN.

He Will Not Discuss the Race Question in Chicago.

CHICAGO, November 22.—Senator Benjamin R. Tillman, who is to lecture in Orchestra Hall next Tuesday evening for the benefit of the Chicago Union Hospital, will be asked to eschew all mention of the race problem and the lynching question. This action was decided upon yesterday in accordance with the wishes of Mayor Dunne and prominent colored people of Chicago.

Mr. Tillman's subject will be "Shall the United States Annex Cuba?" It was originally intended that the subject should be "The Race Problem."

Sensor Tillman will be guarded by police while here.

Brought Message From Cuba.

Among Secretary Taft's visitors this morning was Capt. Frank R. McCoy, 3d Cavalry, one of the President's aids, who has just returned from a short tour of duty with the army of Cuban pacification. It is understood that he bore some messages from Provisional Gov. Magoon and Gen. Bell, commanding the troops in Cuba.

It is reported from London that the southwest tower of St. Paul's Cathedral is thirteen inches out of plumb and the sinking still continues.

DIRECTIONS TO GARLINGTON

Original Recommendation for Wholesale Discharge Made by Maj. Blockson and Adopted by President

In directing that the proceedings for the discharge of the enlisted men of the 1st Battalion of the 25th Infantry, he continued, Secretary Taft has made an exception in the cases of "the members who were on furlough at the time of the Brownsville affair, and three members who are to be tried by court-martial," who, it is stated, "will not be mustered out."

According to the official reports, there were nine members of the battalion absent at the time of the riot, five of Company B, three of Company C and one of Company D, but of that list two only were absent "on furlough," the other seven were at other posts or in the hospital. Although not so stated, it is naturally inferred that the Secretary's exemption from discharge includes all the members who were physically absent from the army post on the night of the trouble, whether they were actually "on furlough" or not.

On His Own Responsibility.

In taking this action Secretary Taft is believed to have acted on his own responsibility and without specific instructions from the President. The recommendation of Gen. Garlington, approved by the President, called for "the discharge without honor of every enlisted man in Companies B, C and D of the 25th Infantry serving at Fort Brown, Texas, on the night of August 13, 1906," etc. No exceptions were made, and arrangements were made for the discharge of the entire three companies.

The President will undoubtedly approve Secretary Taft's action, as it is not conceivable that there ever was any intention to punish any of the members of the battalion who were not at Brownsville at the time of the outbreak.

Inspector General Garlington, who is a native of South Carolina, has been generally held responsible for the drastic punishment meted out to the dismissed battalion of the 25th Infantry. His friends assert that he has been unjustly criticised in that connection, and point out that in recommending the discharge of the entire battalion, the innocent as well as the guilty, he but followed the specific instructions of the President through the War Department.

Order to Gen. Garlington.

To sustain their contention they refer to the original order issued by Gen. Oliver, acting secretary of war, directing Gen. Garlington to investigate the conduct of the battalion of the 25th Infantry, believed to have participated in the riotous disturbance at Brownsville, Texas, on the night of the 13th of August, 1906, resulting in the death of one and the wounding of another of our soldiers, and to report to the President on the conduct of the men.

The President authorizes you to make known to those concerned the nature and extent of the investigation conducted by him in this case, namely: "If the guilty parties cannot be discovered the President approves the recommendation that the whole three companies implicated in this atrocious outrage should be dismissed and the men forever debarred from re-enlisting in the army or navy of the United States."

"And in this connection the President further authorizes you to make known to those concerned that unless such enlisted men of the 25th Infantry as may have knowledge of the facts connected with the shooting, killing and riotous conduct on the part of the men with the organizations serving at Fort Brown, Tex., on the night of the 13th of August, 1906, report to you the facts and all other circumstances within their knowledge which will assist in apprehending the guilty parties, orders will be immediately issued from the War Department discharging every man in Companies B, C and D of the 25th Infantry, without honor, and forever debarring them from re-enlisting in the army or navy of the United States, as well as from employment in any civil capacity under the government."

Maj. Blockson's Recommendation.

The recommendation referred to above was made by Maj. A. P. Blockson of the inspector general's department, who made the original investigation at Brownsville, except that there is a difference in the language employed. Maj. Blockson's recommendation in his report of August 29 was as follows:

"If satisfactory evidence concerning identity of the criminals does not come from the members of the battalion before a certain date, to be fixed by the War Department, I recommend that all enlisted men of the three companies present on the night of August 13 be discharged the service and debarred from re-enlisting in the army, navy or Marine Corps."

S. Coleridge-Taylor Society.

The first two musical entertainments to be given by the S. Coleridge-Taylor Choral Society was held last evening at Metropolitan A. M. E. Church before an audience that filled nearly every seat in the edifice. Mr. Coleridge-Taylor, the composer, conducted his cantatas, which were "The Quodran Girl," by Longfellow, and "The Quodran Girl," by Longfellow, and "The Quodran Girl," by Longfellow.

Both the orchestra and the large chorus, comprising about one hundred voices, were successfully led. The singing was well balanced and the chorus remarkable in its uniformity. The soloists of the evening were Harry P. Burleigh, whose rendition of "The Quodran Girl" defied criticism, and although a long part, his voice was as clear toward the end as in the beginning. His baritone solos in "The Quodran Girl" also were well given. In this last composition Mrs. Katherine Skeene-Mitchell, soprano, and George I. H. Jones, tenor, acquitted themselves creditably. The audience showed unusual appreciation of the numbers "Listen, a Murmur of Voices," "Away With Him," and "In the Night."

The accompaniment was by the Philadelphia Symphony Orchestra, and Miss Mary L. White, of Washington, the pianist.

Mr. Coleridge-Taylor tonight will lead the baton at the rendition of his well-known composition, "Hiawatha." He has been in the city for several days, and will give a series of musical entertainments at Baltimore.

Prohibits Garbage Chutes.

Dr. William C. Woodward, health officer of the District, has recommended to the Commissioners the enactment of an amendment to the building regulations governing apartment houses and hotels, which will prohibit the erection of garbage chutes. Dr. Woodward stated that in almost every case where garbage chutes are maintained, nuisances and insanitary conditions are created because of foul odors emanating from the chutes into the rooms and apartments.

Condition of Dr. Thompson.

Dr. Thomas McArdle, son-in-law of Dr. J. Ford Thompson, who was operated on last week at Washington, received a telegram from his wife today stating that her father is convalescing and that the attending physicians entertain hopes for his recovery, in view of his rally.

Downtown Temperature.

The temperature recorded today by Feast & Co.'s standard thermometer was as follows: 9 a.m., 57; 12 m., 67; 2 p.m., 62.

ANNUAL VISITATION

GRAND OFFICERS, K. OF P., WITH MT. VERNON LODGE.

The officers of the Grand Lodge, Knights of Pythias, of the District of Columbia paid a visit in grand visitation to Mount Vernon Lodge last evening at Pythian Temple. The officers, after completing their duties in connection with the charges committed to them, expressed themselves as being satisfied with the condition of Mount Vernon Lodge, which is the next to the oldest Pythian lodge in the world.

The doors of the temple were then thrown open to the guests and a smoker followed. Past Chancellor Robbins presided. He introduced Past Chancellor Burton T. Doy, who delivered an address on the objects and principles of the order. T. H. Maxwell sang "Love Me and the World Is Mine." The accompanist was G. N. Carozzi.

The next grand visitation will be at Capitol Lodge, No. 25, Tuesday evening. Webster Lodge, No. 7, will conclude the series of grand visitations December 4 next.

Cornerstone of Pythianism.

Mr. Doyle's address, which was well received, was, in part, as follows:

"There are many spurious kinds and inferior qualities of friendship, the cornerstone of Pythianism, and the word, in its ordinary acceptance, is used to cover many kindly, impermanent and unstable relationships in this life, but the genuine article is rare indeed. It depends not upon fancy, imagination or selfish purposes, but upon character. Without stability and decision of character back of it, there can be no real, substantial, firm and abiding friendship between man and man in this life. To have a good friend is our highest privilege, and to be a good friend is our noblest mission in this world. It is one of the most difficult undertakings in this life, and yet we have all undertaken it. No man is so poor that he is not rich, if he has one real friend, and no man is so rich that he is not poor if he is without one."

"True friendship, when found, is strong, firm, unyielding, self-sacrificing and long-suffering. It is the union of faith, confidence, trust, hope, charity, benevolence and love; it brings as good elixir; it confides as confidence; it nurtures, it nurtures, it nurtures; it sustains, builds up and forgives; it is as strong as faith, as clear as daylight, and as bright as love. It pursues the even tenor of its way through sorrow as well as through joy, through sickness as well as through health, in adversity as well as in prosperity, through ill-report as cheerfully as through good report, through the night of despondency as well as through the day of sunshine and mirth, and clings closest in the hour of trouble."

Glorious Gift to Man.

"Its perennial heights are placid and serene and its tranquil valleys are cloudless and clear—it is at once God's most glorious gift and man's most magnificent acquirement, richer than gold, purer than diamond and more precious than individual success. To aspire to it worthily one must cultivate unlimited capacity for pure, unadulterated affection, unswerving disinterestedness, clear discernment and an insatiable thirst for the beautiful in this life."

"We, as an order, seek to give it and to acquire it, and great is our undertaking. Noble is our mission in this world. To be the creator, the promoter and the preserver of that noblest of all human sentiments is surely a mission worthy of the best effort of man. To you and to me, a true, noble and steadfast friend is the greatest earthly gift we have, for you and for me to be a true, noble and steadfast friend to some one else is alone greater; it involves all of the nobler virtues of the heart and the most sterling qualities of the soul—hope, faith, truth, loyalty, courage, confidence, charity and love, and the more these noble off-springs of the very spirit of divinity are nurtured in our hearts, the closer we approach to heaven on this earth."

FUNERAL OF ROBT. V. FREEMAN.

Young Man Whose Connection with Poison Squad May Be Investigated.

Funeral services over the remains of Robert Vance Freeman, who died at 3:15 o'clock Monday morning at his home, 617 13th street northwest, were held at 10:30 o'clock this morning at the Church of the Ascension, 12th street and Massachusetts avenue. Rev. Mr. Alexander conducted the services. Interment was in the Glenwood cemetery. The pallbearers were Messrs. Robert Smith, Charles Grant, William Weber and Charles Mansfield.

Mrs. Lathan, the young man's mother, stated to a Star reporter today that she was going to place the case in the hands of her attorneys and would await their decision about bringing suit
